VINCENNES UNIVERSITY FOUNDED 1801

"Out of a Rich Heritage..."

When William Henry Harrison arrived in Vincennes to become the first governor of the Indiana Territory, he discovered 'that the inhabitants of the country...have long experienced the inconvenience arising from the total want of an institution for the education of youth.' His answer was the establishment of a two room log cabin school named Jefferson Academy in 1801.

The trustees of this little frontier school applied to the federal government for a land grant. Congress approved the grant in 1804, and two years later 23,040 acres of land, in what is now Gibson County, Indiana, was assigned for the support of the school.

The pioneer institution became Vincennes University on November 27, 1806, and was officially incorporated by the first General Assembly of the Indiana Territory meeting in the old Territorial Capitol in Vincennes. Governor William Henry Harrison was elected president of the Board.

Vincennes University was established as the center of education on the frontier -- the first college to be established west of the Alleghenies and north of the Ohio River, the symbol of the intent of the people of the new nation that 'religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and happiness of mankind schools and means of education shall forever be encouraged.'

PREFACE...

As time goes by and one finds himself far along on some distant future way of life, he may turn, glance back, and then and then only, can he truly evaluate these events that are the present. We are no exception. We are nearsighted. But we have tried to project ourselves – to give you this 1964 Le Revoir (formerly known as the Re Voo) a true picture of the year – a picture of what some day will be memories, some of the best memories of your life... Even now as you turn these pages for the first time, you find memories, and even now these memories are mellowing and the circumstances that created them are changing. This is as it should be. A University should be the symbol of change and progress... As we celebrate the 164th anniversary of the founding of Vincennes University and the tenth year on the present campus, we are aware that vast changes are taking place in all aspects of the campus.

And yet, there is something unchanging about the University. Through all this pattern of change and counter-change there is woven the steel thread of tradition, without which there would be no pattern – no lasting pattern. And so, let us say it has been a year with more than its changes... but a year that saw the rebirth of the old traditions. Remember the tenth anniversary convocation in the grove near the Administration Building at the exact location where President Beckes held the first convocation on the present campus...

The new spirit and the old together... memories... let that stand for the Vincennes University for the year of '64.

DEDICATION

To you, the members of the Vincennes University faculty, who moved with the University from the old school to the new campus ten years ago -- we dedicate our 1964 Le Revoir

*Spirit of the Anniversary
of the University*

Ten years ago Vincennes University made its historic move to the new Harrison Park campus. Left behind were inadequate and deteriorating facilities, but not some 75 years of tradition and devoted attachment to the old campus. The decade which has ensued has seen the new campus expand, the program of the University grow in its breadth and usefulness, and new traditions established which will be revered in the years to come.

The story of Vincennes University's growth on its new campus is a thrilling story, one which includes the leadership of a splendid Board of Trustees, and of an able, devoted faculty. It includes the loyalty and generosity of literally hundreds of alumni and friends whose financial contributions and many other types of assistance have made the growth possible. It also includes the story of a growing and worthy student body whose capacity and scholarship have brought them to places of leadership all over the nation. The past ten years will always be remembered as the period for the building of the new Vincennes University.

THE ART OF ACHIEVEMENT

*You hold in your hand the camel's hair brush of a painter of LIFE
You stand before the vast white canvas of TIME
The paints are your THOUGHTS, EMOTIONS and ACTS
You select the colors of your thoughts; drab or bright, weak or strong, good or bad.
You select the colors of your emotions; discordant or harmonious, harsh or quiet, weak or strong.
You select the colors of your acts; cold or warm, fearful or daring, small or big.
Each moment of your life is a brush stroke in the painting of your growing career
There are the bold, sweeping strokes of one increasing, dynamic purpose.
There are the lights and shadows that make your life deep and strong,
There are the little touches that add the stamp of character and worth
The art of achievement is the art of making life -- your life -- a masterpiece.*

UNIVERSITY FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

*Then said a teacher, Speak to us of Teaching.
And he said:*

No man can reveal to you aught but that which already lies half asleep in the dawning of your knowledge.

*The teacher who walks in the shadow of the temple, among his followers, gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and his lovingness.
If he is indeed wise he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.*

The astronomer may speak to you of his understanding of space, but he cannot give you his understanding.

The musician may sing to you of the rhythm which is in all space, but he cannot give you the ear which arrests the rhythm nor the voice that echoes it.

And he who is versed in the science of numbers can tell of the regions of weight and measure, but he cannot conduct your thither.

For the vision of one man lends not its wings to another man.

And even as each one of you stands alone in God's knowledge, so must each one of you be alone in his knowledge of God and in his understanding of the earth.

ORGANIZATIONS

Alpha Theta Chi

Senior Activities: Nancy Carr; Linda Ruble; Nancy Kettery, student senate representative; Jane Kays, student senate representative; Kim Sturgeon, vice president; Sharon Massie, treasurer; Annette Fox, president; Ramona Sievers, pledge chairman; Karyn Gracely, project chairman.

Alpha Theta Chi, the campus sorority, adopted this name in November, 1949. From 1947-1949 all the girls voted to have only one campus organization, in order to become more closely united in their efforts.

Every girl enrolled in the University is eligible for membership, and by complying with the requirements of pledging is initiated as an active member. First year students are considered pledges until their second semester. The upper classmen are initiated shortly after entrance, if they wish to become a member.

In 1964 the organization was most active and had one of their finest years. The annual Spring Ball, a cookie sale, and numerous service projects highlighted the sorority's activities. Each year the organization is able to raise funds by sponsoring the sale of used books. They also assisted in several civic projects giving help to the Multiple Sclerosis drive in the Spring and with the sale of Christmas Seals for the Tuberculosis Association.

Senior members graduating in June: Margaret Berry, Nancy Carr, Annette Fox, the president for 1963-4, Karyn Gracely, Bonnie Holstine, Jane Kays, Nancy Kettery, Sharon Massie, Linda Ruble, Ramona Sievers, and Kim Sturgeon.

The sorority advisors are Mrs. Harriette Groscop and Dean Cornelia Carter.

Mr. Nugent, associate professor of the V.U. math department, explains the fundamentals of "Logic Algebra" to Bill Hubble.

Mu Alpha Theta, the national junior college mathematics honorary, is active on campus by promoting programs and displays centering around the promotion of mathematics on the collegiate level. The main project of the honorary this semester was a book display in the foyer of the Shake Library. Miss Libby and Miss Robbins were in charge of the various program committees. Members are chosen on their proficiency in mathematics and their over-all academic achievement.

Phi Theta Kappa

Seated: Mary Ann Robbins, Sara Roberson, Dean J.H. Hill, advisor, Kim Sturgeon, Jayne McGlone and Mary Sue Libby. Standing: Bill Hubble, Bill Kirchoff, Nancy Stephens, Ramona Sievers, Wayne Singleton and Allen Leinenbach.

Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college scholastic honorary, originated with six charter members under the name of Kappa Phi Omicron, at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, in 1910, under the leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, then dean of women. Beta Chapter of Kappa Phi Omicron was established at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri, in 1911. This society continued until the spring of 1918. By that time honorary societies had sprung up in many other colleges.

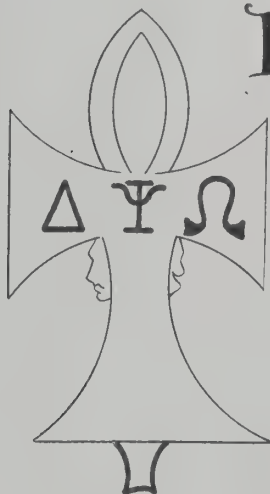

Zeta Psi Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa was established at Vincennes University June 3, 1949. The first sponsor was C.R. Livingston, Academic Dean. Mr. John Howard Hill, dean of faculty and professor of literature and speech, is the present advisor.

Phi Theta Kappa is a recognized honorary scholarship society whose object is to promote scholarship, to develop character and to cultivate fellowship among the students of both sexes in the junior colleges in the United States.

This year Zeta Psi has been active in promoting scholarship standards on the campus. The club holds evening social meetings once a month, as well as regular business meetings at school. Phi Theta Kappa has participated in the cheer bloc at Blazer games.

Initiation into Phi Theta Kappa takes place in the early spring.

Delta Psi Omega

Delta Psi Omega is the national junior college drama honor society. The aim of the fraternity is to participate in and encourage all types of dramatic work in the University. The honorary was founded at Modesto Junior College, Modesto, California.

Qualifications for membership are a freshman or senior standing, good scholastic average, and roles in plays combined with work in various aspects of play production.

The three student members of Delta Psi Omega are Karyn Gracely, Gary Burg, and Sheila Tarrant Wilkes. They have performed in such productions as Percy McKay's "Scarecrow"; "The Angel Who Wouldn't Go Home", by Miss Amy Loomis; Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie"; Shakespeare's "A Mid Summer Night's Dream"; Hawkrigde's "Florist Shop"; and Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine."

Miss Amy Goodhue Loomis is the director of the campus chapter.

The Grand Director is Dr. Yetta G. Mitchell of New York University.

Sheila Tarrant Wilkes portrays Amanda, the ex-socialite mother in Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie".

Miss Amy Goodhue Loomis, advisor discusses current events with Mr. Thomas Kirkconnell, language professor.

Karyn Gracely as Queen Hippolyta in Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream".

Gary Burg plays the flamboyant proprietor of "The Florist's Shop".

Gamma Tau

The engineers of tomorrow. Seated at the computer: Ron Barth, president. Grouped around the IBM 1620 computer are Mr. Robert Chiang, advisor; Nyle Reigle; William McAllister; Bill Godare; Paul Wittman; Philip Wichman; and James Dayton.

Gamma Tau began the year with the first all school mixer of the year. Attendance was very good and Jack Butler was found to be the best balloon "stomper" in one of many activities used to help students get acquainted.

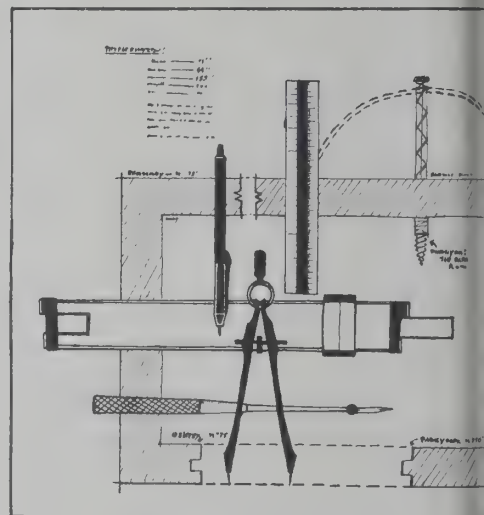

Gamma Tau's lovely candidate, Miss Sandra Leath, was voted Christmas Queen by the student body. This is an example of the organizations good taste. Incidentally, this is the fourth year in a row that the club's candidate has been chosen queen.

After two failures, and some hard work by the members, the club's homecoming bonfire finally lasted until it could be lit in the ceremony. In two previous attempts the wood was "fired" a little early by anxious members of the student body.

With the help of Tech Club, the John F. McGovern memorial scholarship was again offered to help a deserving freshman engineering student. The scholarship was originated after the death of Mr. McGovern, Gamma Tau member, in an automobile accident in 1962.

Although Gamma Tau has been active for the past four years, this year is the first that the club has operated under a constitution with its aim and goals finally in writing.

Ben Johnson Society

V.U.'s Ben Johnson Society discusses everything from politics to religion to ways to getting more power in the hands of the University Student Senate.

This Society was founded on the campus in honor of Ben Jonson -- English poet and dramatist (1572 - 1637).

The organization, founded December 1957, is an original conception of Richard Fidler, a Vincennes University student.

Dr. Isaac K. Beckes is the B.J.S. advisor. Meetings are held in the President's office.

All Tourney Cheerleaders of '64 left to right: Kathy Johnson, Indianapolis, co-captain; Linda Sayre, Indianapolis; Carolyn "Mouse" Clemens, Princeton; Joe Wade, Washington; and Mike Ellis, co-captain, French Lick. With the exception of Joe Wade, all live in the Dorm.

This year the Vincennes University cheerleaders have cheered at every home basketball game and several of the games played away from home. They also conducted a raffle at the Chili Supper in which money was raised to finance new uniforms. Dances were held to help send the student body to the KJCAA Tourney in Somerset, Ky., and the NJCAA Region XII Tourney at Muskegon, Michigan. While at the Kentuckiana Tournament in Somerset they won the KJCAA Award for the best cheerleading over all the junior college cheerleaders present.

Circle K

All ready for an intramural game are Circle K's mighty fine--Steve Chastain, Frank Werker, Jim Housel, Gilbert Keller and Danny Hudleson

Circle K, collegiate division of Kiwanis, spent most of the year trying to clean up the campus by selling plastic "litter bags". The remaining part was devoted to serving as "right hand" men at various school functions.

The club donated money toward the student body trip to the basketball tourney in Muskegon, Michigan. They worked in conjunction with the Pep Club by selling concessions at basketball games. They also performed their annual chore of chief chilli stirers at the Annual Supper in October.

Circle K officers:

President.....	Dennis Chastain
Vice-president.....	Jack Banker
Secretary.....	John Hufty
Treasurer.....	Robert Boyles
Student Representatives.....	Richard Brown and Michael Ellis

Mr. Curtis Dhonau of the science department, is the faculty sponsor.

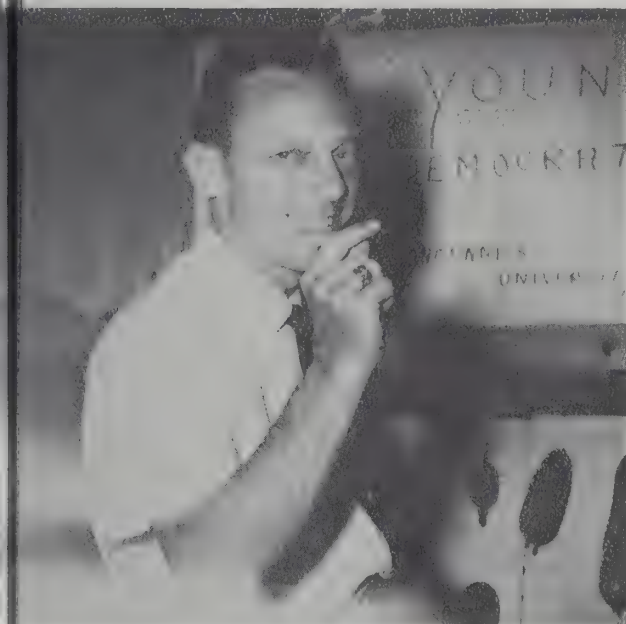

The organization is sponsored by the Vincennes Kiwanis Club to encourage service. It is the state's first Circle K organization.

Circle K strives to support all extra-curricular movements on campus and to mold better citizens for the community. Meetings are held monthly and are open to all members on campus.

The collegiate Democrat's purpose is to foster a basic insight into the primary principles of the Democratic Party. The campus branch is directly affiliated with the national party.

V.U.'s Young Democrats have had, from a political standpoint, a very stimulating year. The fund raising booth at the annual Alumni Chili Supper, bi-monthly discussions on the political developments within the State and nation, and working at the polls during the local elections were some of their activities.

The high-spot of the year was the personal appearance of Indiana's Senator Birch Bayh at the spring dinner party.

A bronze plaque, commemorating the life of the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy, thirty-fifth President of the United States of America was dedicated by the officers to the University. It was placed in the foyer of the Shake Library.

Mr. Paul Nugent of the mathematics department is the advisor of the campus Democrats.

The Ensemble, V.U.'s own ambassadors of good music, serve the school and University community with varied repertoire throughout the academic year.

Members are selected by private audition. Scholarships are given in the Spring to those who qualify with musical talent as well as good academic standing.

The most popular selections performed by the Ensemble this year have been their own renditions of Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man"; Fred Waring's "The Battle Hymn" and Reed's "God Be In My Head".

During their annual May convocation, the Ensemble turned the Green Auditorium into a vaudeville stage with their colorful presentation of old time skits.

Another first for the Ensemble is their "Barbershop Quartet" composed of Herb Carrel, Jon Noland, Steven Thompson and James Mason. Their counterpart--a "Beauty Shop" sextet with Delaine Biddle, Annette Fox, Nelley Flory, Karyn Gracely, Cathy Mudd and Judith Fryer.

The Spring Program chairman was Kim Ann Sturgeon, a music major.

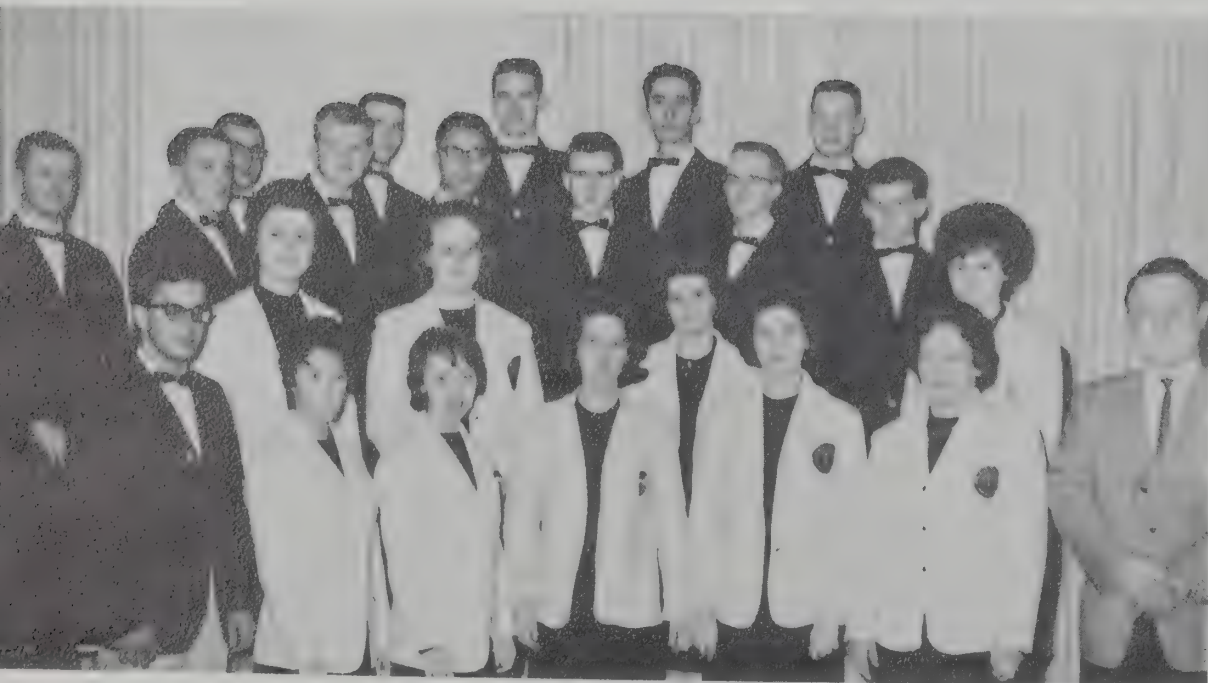

Three of the Ensemble's objectives are: to promote and dignify the musical program at Vincennes University; to raise the standards of Production in music among college students, and to recognize and honor students of scholastic ability and musicianship with scholarships.

Richard Ertel, who holds his degree from the Chicago Conservatory of Music, is the director. Under his capable leadership the music department, as well as the Ensemble has continued to grow.

The Student Christian Association developed out of the desire to be of service to the campus, community and the world by giving assistance to the faculty, by working at the home churches and by sending gifts to the mission field. The members unite to realize a full and creative life through growing knowledge of God. They are determined to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task they seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him.

The activities in which the S.C.A. participated were the Lenten Fellowship dinner, co-sponsored with the Newman Club and the Home Ec Club. As a club project they sold the V.U. Student Directory and held their annual choral singing during the Christmas holidays at orphanages, nursing homes and hospitals.

The S.C.A. officers are: Tom Small, president; Nancy Carr, vice-president; Perrilee LeMar, secretary-treasurer. Dr. June Dollahan is the club sponsor.

Members are Bill Slater, Arnold Melsheimer, Richard Blice, Mike Smith, Linda Ruble, Leland Beckes, Larry Trueblood, Kay Ogle, and Darrel Grimes.

IESUS HOMINUM SALVATOR
Christ, the Savior of Men

President Bill Hubble explains the Senate's plans for the annual Honor's Day Convo to Leland Beckes, his vice-president.

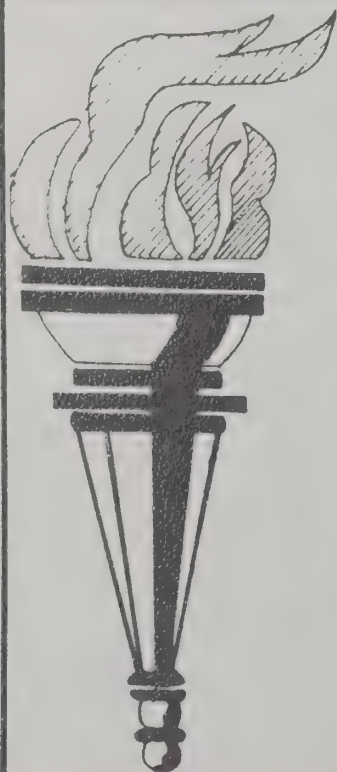

Highest student legislative and judicial organization at Vincennes University, the Student Senate coordinates the activities of all other student organizations, formulates and enforces rules concerning the student body, and works with the University administration on all matters affecting the students. Membership consists of representatives from every organized club, fraternity, and society on campus.

Raising school spirit at extracurricular functions has been the main theme of this year's activity. On the Senate's recommendation, class rings were made available, a tomahawk representing the pioneer spirit of 'Ole V.U. was awarded to the organization having the best attendance at the Blazer's home games, and the Senate scholarship fund was enlarged by raffling off a portable stereo in late March.

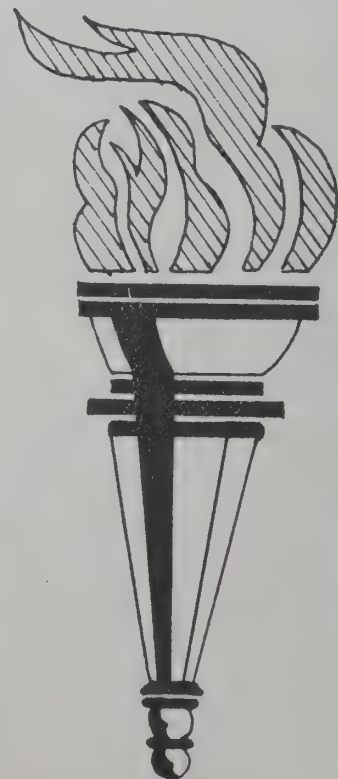

One of the goals of 1963-64 was to return the Senate's delegated power back to it. At the end of the spring semester, this goal was completed.

The president of the Student Senate is Bill Hubble, a senior from Linton, Indiana. His associate officer's are Bill Kirchoff, vice-president; Bunny Wissing, secretary; and Leland Beckes, treasurer. The Sponsors: Dean Cornelia Carter and Dean Stephen Violante.

The Vincennes University Young Republicans have participated in an eventful year. The club was host to such prominent Republican personalities as Indiana's Lt. Governor Richard O. Ristine; State Senator Bontrager and the Honorable William G. Bray of the United States House of Representatives.

Letters had been written to all of the top Republican Presidential Candidates, for purposes of speaking at further school convocations?

Throughout the year the club has sponsored polls covering all of the presidential hopefuls, canvassed the campus and carried on interesting political discussions. The club has also arranged to have all of the Republican candidates in the Indiana gubernatorial race for speaking engagements.

V.U.'s junior "GOP" is planning to send several members to the Indiana State Republican Nominating Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. McQuaid, owners of the University bookstore, served as the Le Revoir Sponsors.

The year began with, "What happened to last year's annual?" From then on nothing was the same. The new Le Revoir staff was the most notorious "gang" on campus. No one thought we could do it. From then on it was "blood, sweat, and tears".

The 1964 Le Revoir was made in the back room of the Student Union's "Old Post Book Store", amid debris from paste jars, carbons; lay-out papers, and picture trimmings.

Groundwork had taken place in October; contracts had been signed circulation boosted, and pictures taken. The dummy was the result of the efforts of both editorial and business staffs.

Mr. Robert Schultheis of the Journalism department offered advice on the various journalism techniques.

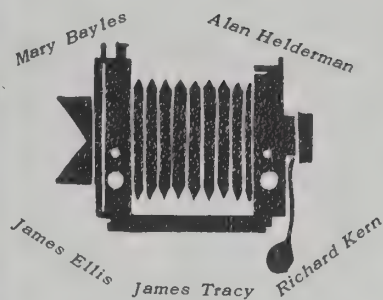

Rita Carie, Jed Dye, and Frank Telfer added the necessary demension with their drawings. Chris Anderson, Charles Crews, and Bill Hubble served as the editor's right hand men.

Photographers sacrificed much in order to fulfill the yearbook's needs.

Speaking of sacrifice, Mr. and Mrs. James McQuaid, of the Old Post Book Store, gave many long hours helping to correct copy, edit it, and organize workers. The guidance and love shown by them is what made the 1964 Le Revoir.

The women's intramural sports season was sparked by the volley-ball tourney won by the 3:00 clock class. For the first time in the schools history the girls basketball team played an inter-colligate game with Indiana State College. The girls also participated in badminton, bowling, track, and modern dance.

Girls who proved their physical fitness by doing 30 or more Sit-ups were initiated into the honorary physical fitness "Club 30." COMMUNITY SERIES

From all over the U.S.A., once again came artists in all fields to entertain the citizenry in the Vincennes University community area, in the Green Auditorium.

The first performance of the season was the colorful Marching Band Festival at Inman Field when Indiana University's Marching Hundred were the highlighters of this annual fall spectacular.

The Mitchell-Ruff Trio provided a never to be forgotten progressive jazz atmosphere on November 19.

The VU Playhouse gave their finest performance in many years when they presented "Midsummer Night's Dream" to two packed houses.

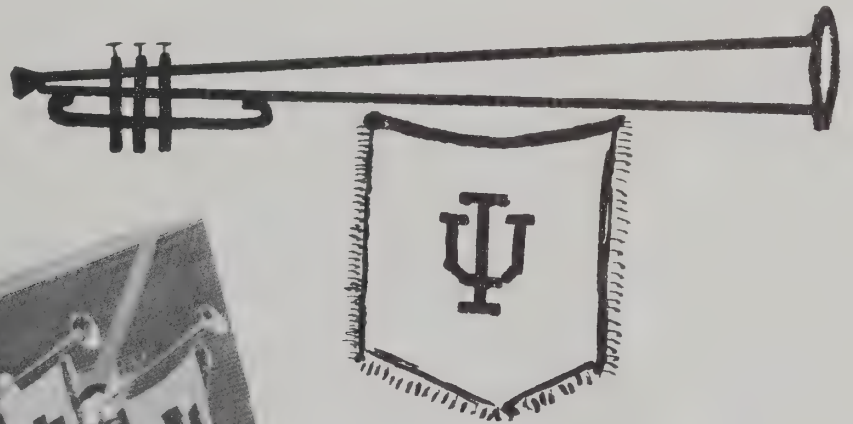

The Burke Family Singers of Providence, R.I. scored a hit and definitely proved their versatility with interpretations of old American folk songs as well as internationally known music...all a cappella. The group appeared later on the Ed Sullivan Christmas Show.

You'll remember the undivided interest of the student body when Gordon Hall, a free-lance writer from Massachusetts, told of the evils of hate groups and communism within the United States.

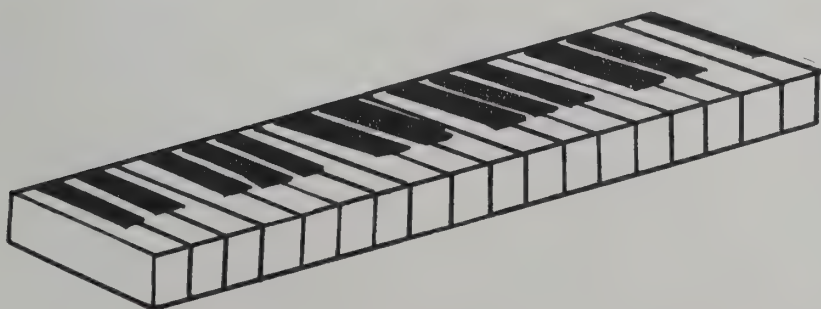

Minnesota's Concordia College sent its famed Concordia Choir to our campus, February 19. Outstanding among its selections was diLasso's "Psalm Penitentiales".

The Porgy and Bess Singers stole your hearts and evoked your chuckles on the auditorium stage during their program in early Spring.

As the house lights dimmed after the season's last performance, the audience bespoke their praise of a job well done by their enthusiastic applause.

Here comes I. U.'s Marching Hundred!

The Friendship Garden

On Sunday, September 1, 1963, the two handsome Japanese lanterns Yukimitono, the short, squat one, and Kasugatoro, the tall, slender one, were placed in the "Friendship Garden" and dedicated.

The lanterns were gifts to Vincennes University from the students of Kochi University in Japan. The lanterns are symbols of wisdom and affection and highly respected. These two lanterns are made from volcanic stone and carved by famous Japanese craftsmen.

Since the lanterns weighed about 2000 pounds, Judge Shake contacted the U.S. Navy for assistance in delivering them to San Francisco. They arrived May 27, and were taken to Evansville by the local Rotary Club where they were picked up by a local trucker and brought to the university campus.

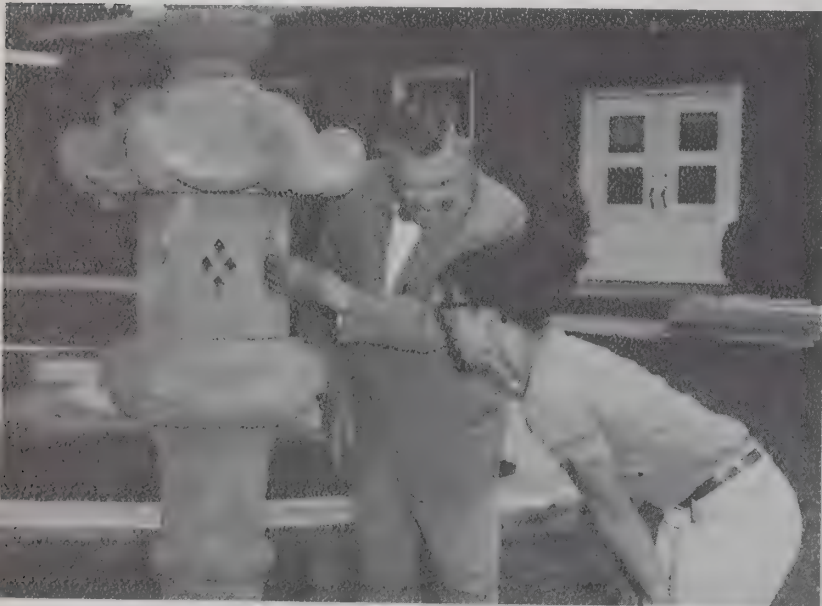

Five students from Waseda University, Japan, participated in the ceremony together with Susumu Nakagawa, Minister of the Embassy of Japan, Washington, D.C. He was the personal representative of His Excellency, Ryuji Takuski, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the United States from Japan. The five boys were on a cross-country hike and when contacted were delighted and honored to participate in the dedication ceremonies.

During the program the students sang their school song and Mr. Nakagawa spoke of the origin of the lanterns and their meaning.

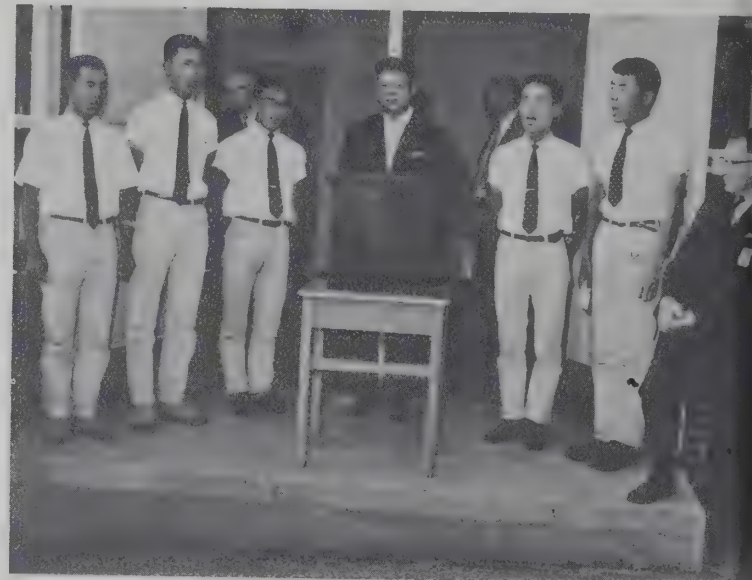

The visitors were entertained at a public reception after the ceremony and later at a buffet supper by Dr. and Mrs. Beckes.

The following from THE ROTARIAN probably best describes the meaning of the Friendship Garden on campus:

How can two stone lanterns without flames cast beams of light across 9,000 miles of land and sea? It can't be done, at least not with plain, everyday light. But if the light is the kind that brightens the lives of good friends no matter how far apart they might be, it's not only possible, but it's happening at this moment. The two lanterns are in an Oriental garden at Vincennes (Indiana) University. They were a gift from students at Kochi University in Japan, given as a token of friendship following a visit from a Vincennes University official, Rotarian Curtis G. Shake. Sending the lanterns to Indiana was no easy task, but many hands joined in, including those of the Kochi students, who conceived the idea; the Rotary Clubs of Kochi and Kochi Minami, which helped finance the gift and ordered the lanterns from stone workers of Matsue; the U.S. Navy, which helped carry the 2,000-pound gift across the Pacific; and Rotarians in Vincennes who provided transportation from the Pacific port to the University garden, where the lanterns stand today radiating the invisible light and warmth that bind men in friendship.

THE FOURTH ANNUAL BOOK FAIR

A large group of VU students who helped set up the fair....there were many others who gave assistance and are not pictured....to all of them a big THANK YOU. Front row: Denny Chastain, Gloria Carnahan, Jane Rutledge, Mary Beth Seal (Queen Alice of Old Vincennes, a senior at Lincoln who offered her assistance.... could it have been because of John Hufty?) Sheryl Ritter, one of Queen Alice's Court of Honor, Maurice Holscher and John Morgan. Second Row: Jack Banker, Genie Lawrence, Penny Christian, John Hufty, Norma Sweeney, Jim Tracy, Mr. Lacefield (husband of Lillian Lacefield in the cafeteria office) and Steve Chastain.

At the far right, Prof. Hollis Leighly is intent in showing John Hufty one of the copies of an ancient map on sale at the Fair. The other unidentified people show the varied ages who came to the Fair. The Tables were covered in all white or all red corrugated paper, generously given by the Paper Corporation of America. The Vincennes News Agency through Mr. Charles Teising and his staff cooperated in every way to make the Fair a success.

Faculty, students and townspeople heeded the call to the Fair, and came the Fourth Annual Paperback Book Fair, sponsored by the Old Post Bookstore in Green Auditorium, the week-end of November 15-18. More than 1000 registered for the hourly and daily prizes made possible through local people, as well as companies with whom the bookstore does business.

New features were added this year such as merchandise for Christmas giving; books gaily wrapped as Christmas gifts. The display of prints and reproductions of famous paintings were very popular this year. A Hi-Fi, generously loaned by a student, provided welcome background music while the patrons were browsing through the some 5000 books on display.

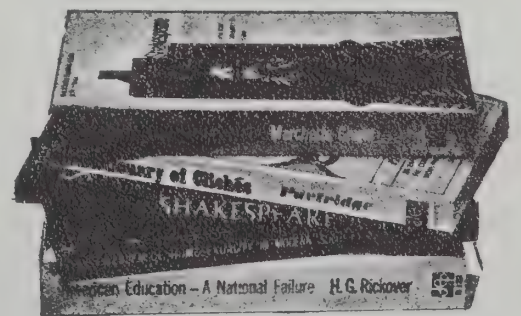

Charles Scribner & Sons sent an interesting display, entitled "Evolution of a Book" showing the various steps from the original manuscript to the published book.

The University library had a special exhibit of books pertaining to the early history of Knox County and Vincennes.

For the second year, the local chapter of American Pen Women (with three members on campus) sponsored a luncheon and autograph party during the fair and this year the guest was Dr. John W. Allen, professor emeritus from University Southern Illinois. He spoke at the luncheon and later autographed his book, LEGENDS AND LORE OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS.

On Sunday afternoon Rev. Carl Scherzer, presently chaplain at Deaconess Hospital in Evansville, and former local minister, introduced and autographed his new Prentice-Hall publication, MINISTERING TO THE PHYSICALLY SICK. Both authors were very warmly received.

The students were unusually interested in the fair this year, and showed it by many volunteering to help set up for the exhibits (no small task) and taking down all the displays at the close of the fair. Jim and Marie McQuaid wish to take this means of expressing their gratitude to all of you who helped in any way with this project. They are looking forward to making the 1964 Paperback Book Fair an even bigger and more successful project and are hopeful that the fairs will grow hand-in-hand with Vincennes University and become "bigger and better" as the years go on.

STUDENT COMMENTS:

"As one entered the auditorium, they did, indeed, feel an atmosphere of culture"....
 "The items on display were varied, vivid and vivacious"....
 "One could buy anything from night-shirts... gag cards ... stationary ... jewelry ... Renoir prints ... need I say more?"....
 "The Book Fair enabled students of limited finances (a group of which most college students are key members) to purchase items which would enrich and enhance their education"

Playhouse Presents...

A MID SUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

The Vincennes University Playhouse opened its tenth season this fall of 1963 with the production of Shakespeare's Fantastic comedy, "A Mid Summer Night's Dream" on November 7 and 8 in the Robert E. Green Auditorium.

This production commemorated the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth and marked the tenth anniversary of the first performance of the "Dream" on campus at V.U.

Last but not least, Miss Amy Goodhue Loomis, head of the drama department, director of the V.U. Playhouse and Children's Theatre, and founder of the Drama Workshop, celebrated her tenth year with the University theatre.

As the yearbook goes to press, rehearsals were underway for the spring production of Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine".

Sheila Tarrant Wilkes, VUP president, served as costume designer for "A MidSummer Night's Dream".

The framework of the play is provided by the wedding of Theseus, Duke of Athens, and Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons.

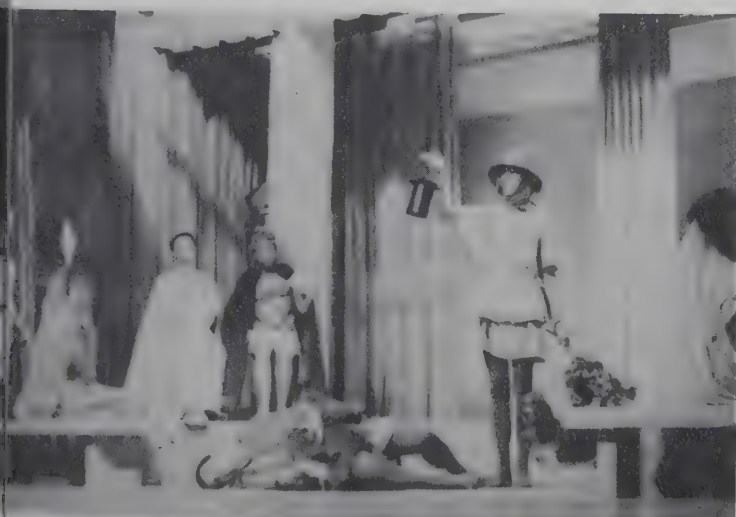

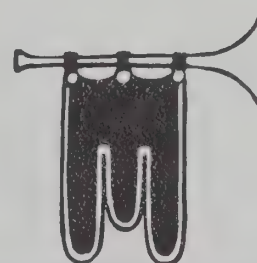

Royal nuptials within the play are watched over by the fairy King, Oberon, and his Queen, Titania, with whom Oberon has quarreled. Temporarily bemused by a love elixer Puck spreads at Oberon's command, Titania falls in love with Weaver, Bottom, temporarily topped as an ass. The lovers Demetrius and Helena, Lysander and Hermia, are intertangled, then properly paired by elfin Puck.

Bottom, released from his transformation into an ass is free along with his fellow fairies - Quince, Snug, Flute, Snout, and Starveling - to present, at the royal wedding feast, "the most lamentable comedy, and most cruel death of Pyramus and Thisbe." After their performance, all go off to bed. The Master of the Revels urges Theseus not to hear those horny-handed sons of toil, for it would be cruel to laugh at their earnest efforts, but Theseus is more tolerant and defends all players.

Big Convo Caps Holiday Season On Campus

The all-University Christmas dinner in the Trail Blazer Room started the holiday celebration on campus.

The Christmas Convocation followed the traditional Christmas dinner for faculty, students and staff. The program, held in the Green Auditorium, opened with a welcome from the Senior Class President, Wayne Singleton, and the Ensemble singing "Twas the Night before Christmas" and other Christmas songs. The queen candidates were introduced and Kim Sturgeon sang "O Holy Night".

The VU Playhouse presented a skit, "Holiday House" and this was followed by Dr. Beckes' traditional Christmas Message.

The Christmas Queen candidates were: Carol Ann Conrad, Paula Brothers, Dina Meyers, Connie Fowler, Judy Allbright, Frances Huff, and Sandra Leath.

At the annual Christmas Ball, Miss Leath was selected queen and reigned over the evening's festivities.

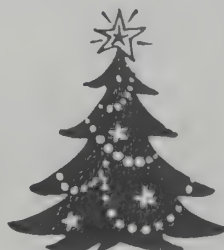

"Holiday House", produced by the University Playhouse, highlighted the Christmas Convocation.

Dr. Beckes' delivered his message and announced afternoon classes would be dismissed-a dismissal which is a part of the traditional custom of V.U.

The faculty also had a gala celebration at their annual party. Ensemble sang the songs of Christmas.

Santa Claus, alias Mr. Ray Beless, former instructor of physical ed at V.U. helped Dr. Beckes distribute gifts to the children of the faculty members.

HOMECOMING '64

Three distinguished alumni were honored the week-end of Homecoming as has been the custom for the past several years. This year the three chosen by the Vincennes University faculty were as follows:

ROBERT H. BEGEMAN, formerly of Sandborn, he received his associate in arts degree at Vincennes University in 1943. Since 1957 he has been supervisory electronics engineer and head of the radar systems branch of the experimental research division of the U.S. Naval Avionics Facility in Indianapolis. He holds a number of patents in the radar field, most of them in classified areas. Mr. Begeman is considered a national authority in the use of radar systems in national defense.

DR. JANET BERRY, a native of Wheatland, attended Vincennes University in 1939 and is a chemist and patent lawyer now living in New York City. She has had a distinguished career in patent law and now oversees all the patent activities of the National Distillers far-flung liquor and chemical divisions, both in the United States and abroad.

JOE ROBERT PATRICK, a native of Vincennes attended Vincennes University in 1941-42. Presently he is assistant telegraph editor of THE DES MOINES REGISTER AND TRIBUNE and in his present position has a basic share in the responsibility for the content and position of the news stories in one of the nation's most respected newspapers.

Mr. Patrick is also a prominent Presbyterian layman and has served on the national board of the church.

These three alumni and their families were honored at a dinner in the Trailblazer Room on the opening night of Homecoming and the citations were awarded by J.H. Hill, Dean of the Faculty.

Miss Nancy Stephens, a charming home economics major from Vincennes, was chosen Homecoming Queen and was crowned at the opening of festivities on Saturday night. The queen is traditionally chosen by vote of the student body after names have been placed in nomination by members of the Trailblazer basketball team.

The following attractive coeds served in Queen Nancy's court:

EDITH BRICKER, Plainville, a second year student majoring in elementary education. KATHY JOHNSON, a second year student from Indianapolis, in the secretarial department and a cheerleader for the past two years. SANDY LEATH, a freshman from Vincennes in elementary education. KATHY UTTER, from Harrisburg, Illinois is a freshman and is studying to be a dental hygienist.

After the crowning ceremony, just prior to the varsity ball game, Queen Nancy and her entourage presided at the game, and later at the homecoming dance in Green Auditorium.

Homecoming week-end festivities closed on Sunday afternoon with the formal capping of the 1965 class of the nurses in the V.U. Department of Nursing program.

Officers of the Men's Dormitory are: Herbert Swingle, president; Jeffrey Lanning, vice-president; Marvin Bayles, secretary; Timothy Sisko, treasurer; and Weldin Johnson, student senate representative.

The officers brought distinction to the dormitory by obtaining 2:00 a.m. hours on weekends and this accomplishment required several meetings and petitions with the administration. An honor system was established whereby the men will control the hours and the demerits to be handed out on weekends has so far proven highly successful.

The dormitory has also made several contributions in the fields of intramural sports, by winning the intramural football championship and by sponsoring other events around campus.

By living at the dorm the men and women have struck up close friendships with one another and have had the unique experience of living in a co-educational residence hall.

The Women's Residence Hall was led by Carol Stephens, president; Carolyn Clemens, vice-president; Mary Hall, secretary; Lana Brodie, treasurer and Kathy Johnson, Student Senate representative.

The girls planned several events throughout the year. They also provided entertainment during Wednesday night dinners. Outstanding among their dinner programs were Rev. Ray Montgomery and Mr. Glynn Custred.

The girls feel as though they have obtained many fond memories through the course of the year and express their appreciation to Diane Lewellyn and their house mothers for their understanding and guidance throughout the year.

A LOOK AROUND ...

Kim Sturgeon, a senior Ensemble vocalist, makes a guest appearance with the Adami orchestra during the Homecoming dance.

The horizons of man's perception have expanded greatly in this century. It is the responsibility of the University to facilitate this growth in knowledge and stimulate a sense of moral and ethical responsibility in those with whom the knowledge is shared.

The University of Vincennes is dedicated to this concept of function. In this pursuit of excellence, the University must work within three phases of time: it takes from the past; gives to the present; and plans for the future.

... INTO A

Also as the yearbook goes to press, CATV is coming to Vincennes and Washington, with plans for possible expansion to Lawrenceville and Bridgeport, Illinois.

Why is Vincennes University interested in this project can best be answered as follows:

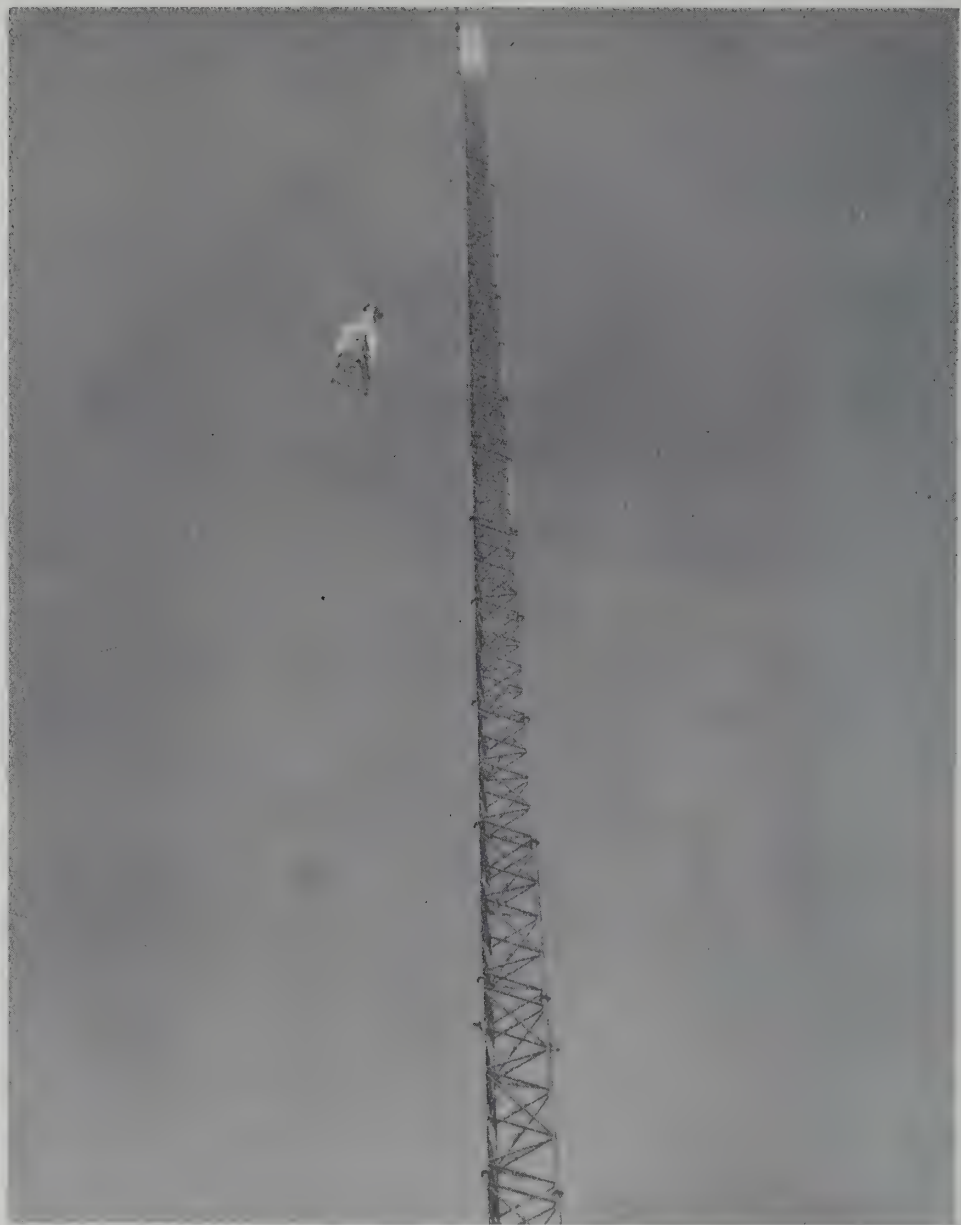

A friend of the University gave V.U. the equipment formerly used at channel 52 UHF station in Princeton, Ind. The University's interest in providing television service is basically educational. However, educational television must be financially underwritten.

The University's TV consultants from Washington, D.C. have taken the position that the greater University area would benefit greatly from CATV service, and that with the CATV system furnishing income an educational station could be maintained on the air to serve the area.

What educational goals does V.U. hope to attain through educational service over channel 52?

- (a) To develop educational TV programs at the elementary, secondary and college levels.
- (b) To take better advantage of educational TV programs being developed outside the community.
- (c) To develop training programs for TV engineers, technicians, program personnel and sales personnel, a service seriously needed in the Midwest. Such programs would greatly widen the educational opportunity for young people in the V.U. area in a rapidly growing field.

These dramatic photographs show some of the installation of the 523 foot tower that will be used to bring eight different TV channels to the CATV subscribers.

CHALLENGING FUTURE...

URBAN RENEWAL

As the yearbook goes to press, it is apparent from advance enrollment figures that V.U. will have a greatly increased student body in the fall. The University now finds that it must expand its facilities, either through Urban Renewal program or through other means.

These aerial views show how impossible it is for the school to expand any way but north--the Wabash River is bordering the campus on the west; the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad hem in the campus from the south as well as east, so north is the only possible answer to the present question of expansion.

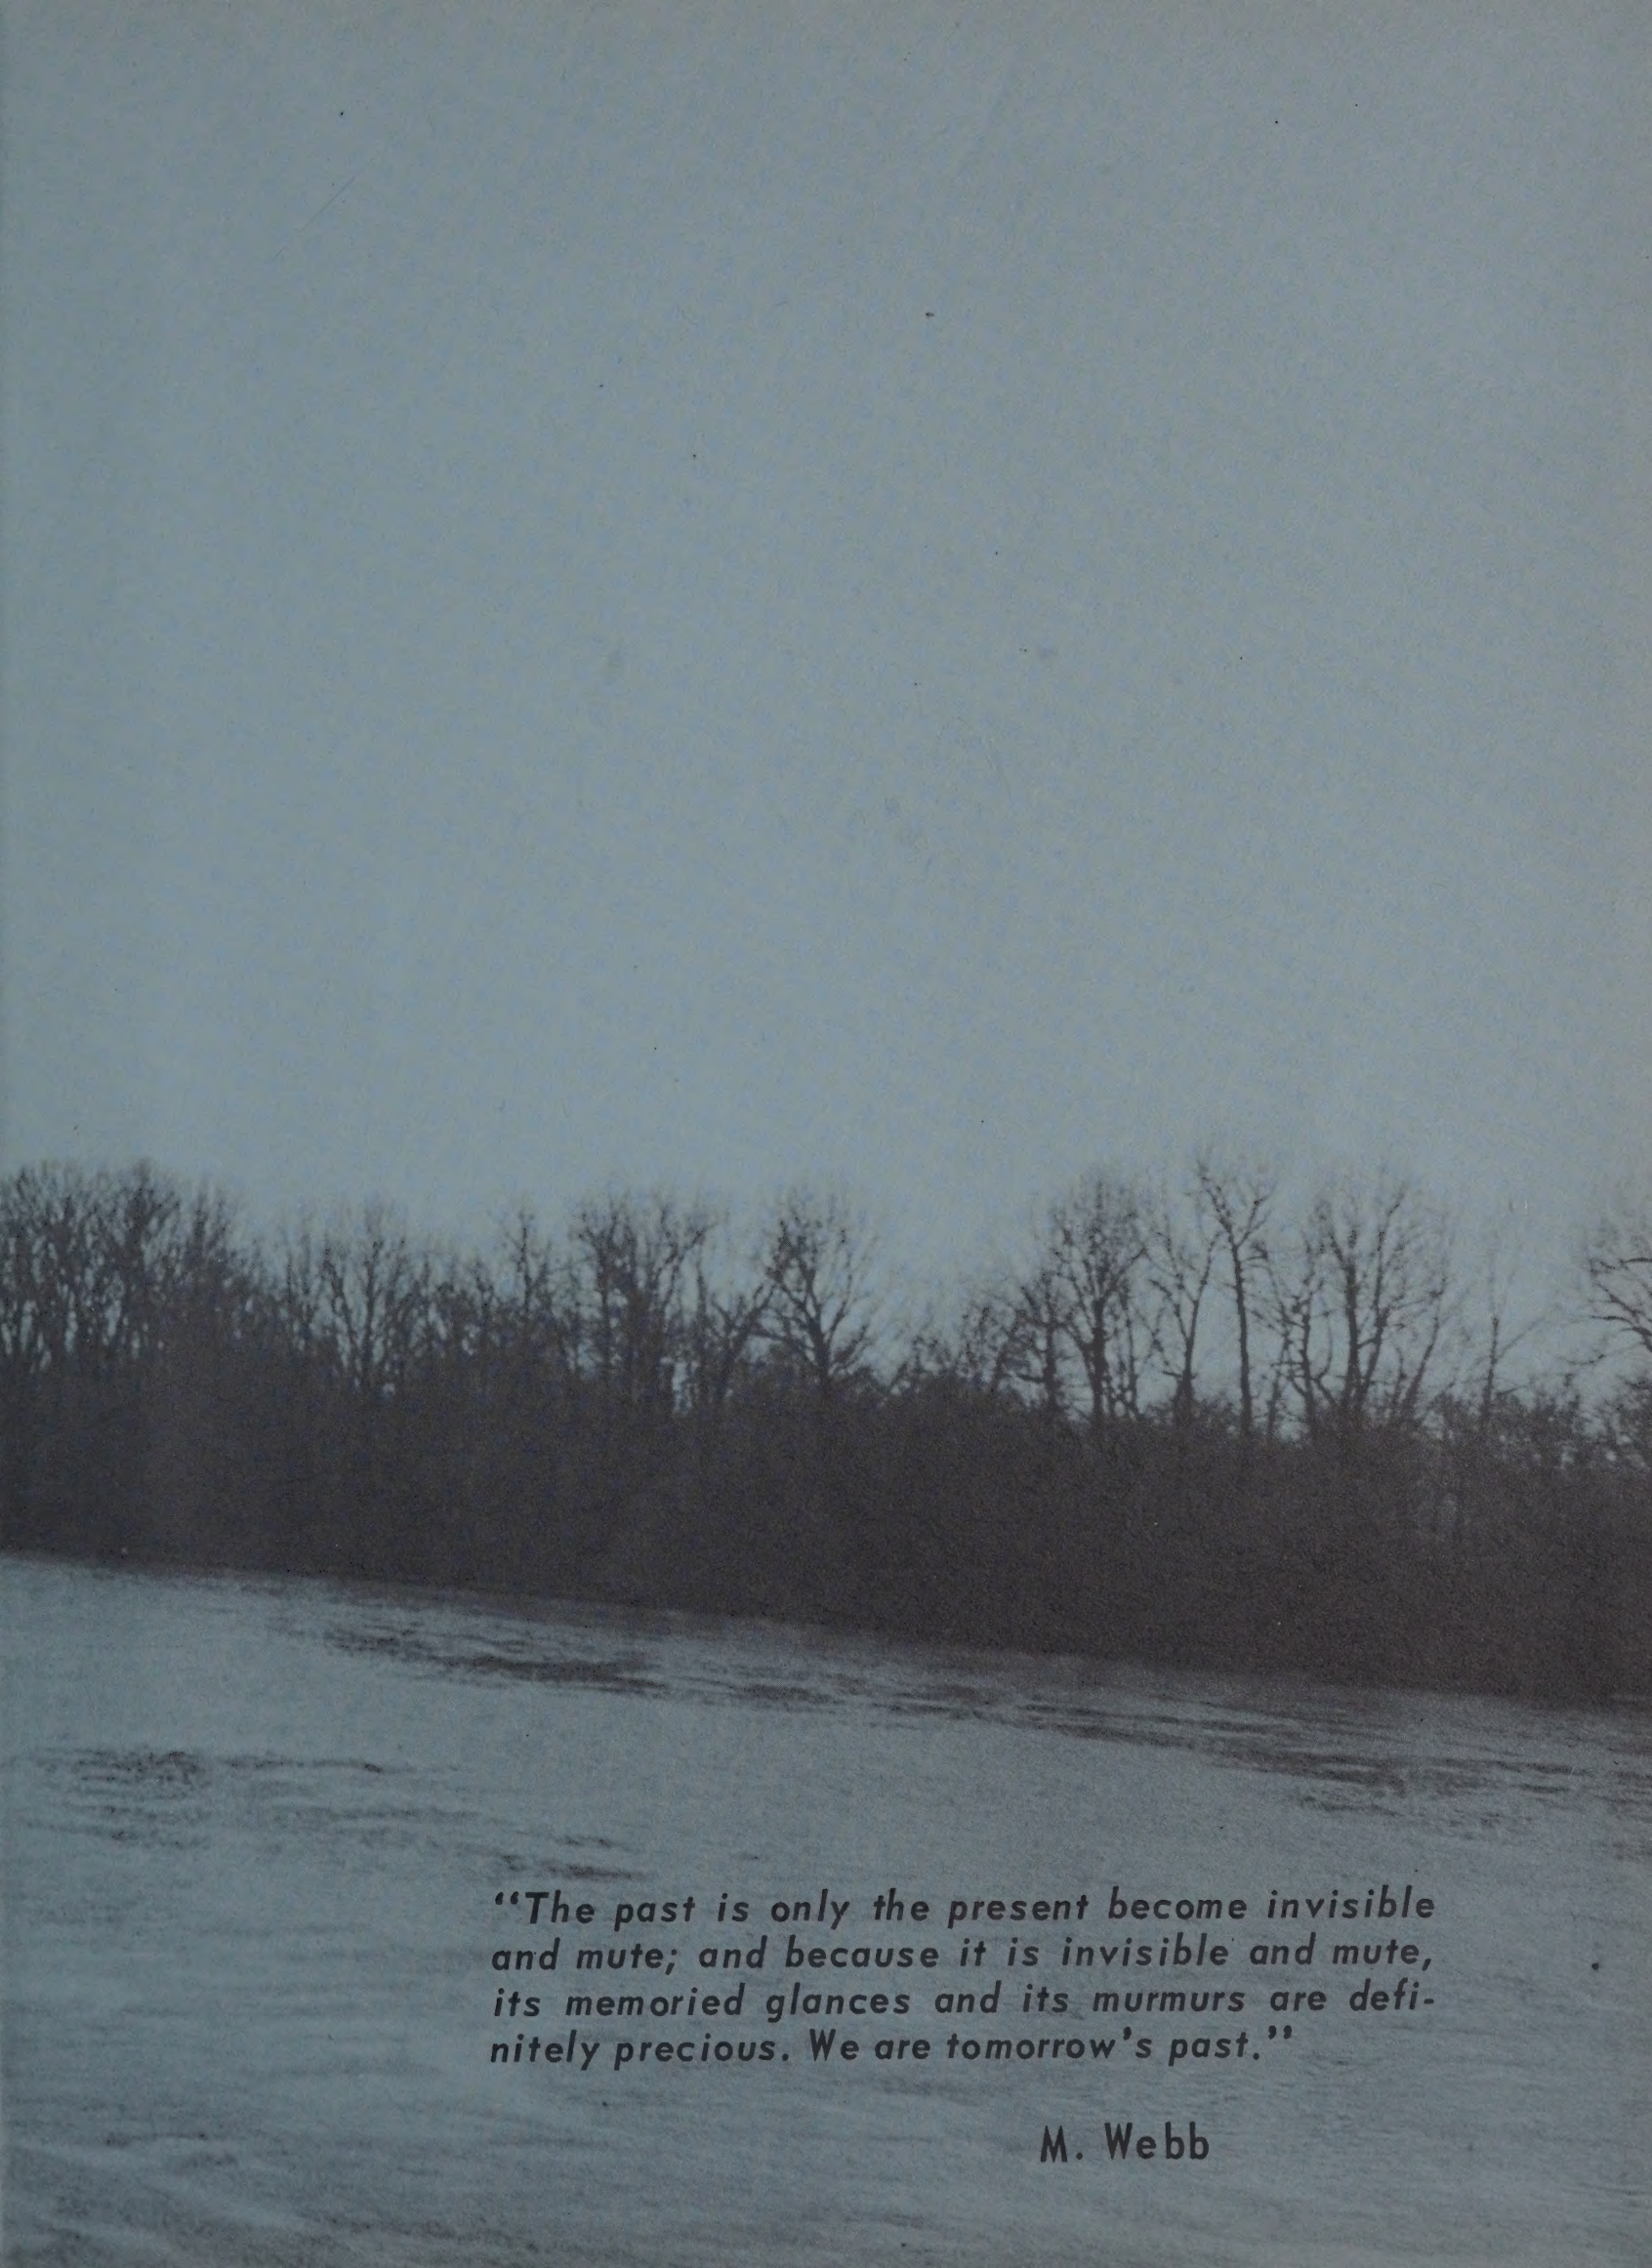

Dr. Beckes, and the Board of Trustees, feel that with the present increased enrollment in all schools, especially junior colleges, that Vincennes University will surpass 1000 students by 1970.

We sincerely hope that the yearbook of 1965 will show a new and enlarged campus. A campus serving the educational needs of an ever-increasing student body.
